From exploring hidden caves and burial grounds to ancient stone structures and thick jungles, each discovery unearths clues to a fascinating puzzle.

The drug has been reported to have no dose limiting toxicity in adult cancer patient trials and was well tolerated with significant clinical benefit.